SUBJECT

Pilot for HOA contractor progress reporting

BODY

Hi [Name],

I'm working on a simple tool for Florida HOA and condo property managers who need cleaner contractor progress documentation before approving invoices.

The idea is straightforward: the manager creates a project budget and milestones, the contractor receives a no-login upload link, and the system collects progress photos, notes, invoices, and budget status into a board-ready report.

I'm looking for a few Florida management companies to test this on one active project, such as sidewalk repair, paving, painting, pressure washing, drainage, roofing, or pool work.

The goal is to reduce phone chasing, organize vendor proof, and make board updates easier.

Would you be open to a quick 15-minute conversation to see if this would help your managers?

2. LinkedIn / Facebook Post

Florida HOA and condo managers: how are you currently proving contractor progress before approving invoices?

I'm building a simple vendor progress reporting tool for community association projects.

The contractor gets a no-login upload link, submits photos/notes/invoices, and the manager gets a clean board-ready report showing milestone progress, budget approved, amount billed, and open issues.

I'm looking for a few Florida property management companies to test this on real projects like paving, sidewalk repair, pressure washing, painting, drainage, pool work, or roofing.

Comment “pilot” or message me if you'd like to see the sample report.

3. Sales Call — Discovery Questions

Use the first calls for discovery, not hard selling.

1. How do you currently collect progress photos from contractors?
2. What happens when a contractor invoices before the board feels the work is complete?
3. How do you prepare project updates for board meetings?
4. Where do photos, invoices, contracts, and change orders live today?
5. How much time does your team spend chasing vendor updates?

6. Which projects create the most board frustration?
7. Do managers already compare billing percentage to project completion percentage?
8. Would a contractor no-login upload link help?
9. Would a board-ready PDF report save time?
10. What would make this a must-have instead of a nice-to-have?

4. Lead Capture Form Questions

Keep the landing page form short.

11. Name
12. Company
13. Email
14. Phone
15. City/region in Florida
16. How many communities do you manage?
17. What type of projects do you need better tracking for?
18. Are you currently using software for vendor or project tracking?
19. Would you be open to testing this on one active project?

5. Manual Concierge Offer (Before the App Is Built)

Judge success by whether property managers say: “Can I use this on a real project?” — not by website visits alone.
